EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Please cancel non-elected ~~claim~~ claim 4.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1 and 3 are allowable. The prior art does not specifically teach or disclose the claimed Ca-containing rust resistant steel having a sulfur concentration of at least 0.0005wt% or more and at least 80% of the CaO-containing oxide inclusions having a particle diameter of 2 microns or less and a an equilibrium sulfur soluble amount of 0.03wt% or less. As argued by applicant in the remarks for the amendment, the declaration submitted August 28, 2002, and as shown in summarized in the table on page 5 of applicant's remarks for the amendment filed February 26, 2003, although various steel may have an overall composition similar to that of applicant's claimed invention, this does not necessarily correspond to the inclusions having the same structure and composition as that of the claimed invention. The table in the remarks by applicant does not present new matter, it simply summarizes matter presented in the specification on pages 22 and 24 and the cited prior art of Kato. Because the steel having the features of the claimed invention is not disclosed in the prior art, nor would it have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, the claims are allowable. Claim 3 further discloses mathematical relationships between the equilibrium sulfur soluble amount in the oxide inclusions and the composition and casting temperature of the steel, and is allowable for the reasons of claim 1 and because such mathematical relationships are also neither taught nor suggested by the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
